WINTER HAVEN OVERVIEW AND NEW PROJECTS

1105 6TH STREET NORTHWEST

Location Overview

Nestled between Orlando and Tampa, it's quietly becoming a powerhouse for both real estate and business growth. Here's why you should consider Winter Haven for your next strategic move:

Explosive Population Growth: Winter Haven's population is surging, projected to increase by 5% annually over the next few years. This influx of new residents fuels demand for housing, driving real estate values steadily upwards. The median home price is currently 15% below the national average, making it an ideal market for investors and first-time buyers alike.

Thriving Business Landscape: Beyond residential charm, Winter Haven boasts a flourishing business environment. Major investments in infrastructure, including the Central Florida Intermodal Logistics Center and the expansion of Legoland, have attracted prominent brands like Amazon and Publix. This increased commercial activity creates exciting opportunities for entrepreneurs, and established businesses in diverse sectors like logistics, healthcare, technology, and tourism.

Targeted Industries for Strategic Advantage: Winter Haven actively supports its target industries, offering tailored incentives and resources to businesses within key sectors like agribusiness, healthcare, technology, and freight transportation. This commitment to specific industries fosters synergy and growth, creating a supportive ecosystem for businesses to thrive.

This mixed-use project (highlighted on the article on the right) strategically positioned within a 1.5-mile radius of the subject property offers a unique avenue for businesses to cater to the burgeoning community residing in the 600-unit multifamily complex. This prime location not only presents an opportunity for seamless access to a burgeoning customer base but also underscores the potential for heightened visibility and increased patronage. Furthermore, the integrated commercial development significantly enhances the overall appeal of the area, amplifying its allure and augmenting the intrinsic value of the surrounding real estate landscape.

The City of Winter Haven recently paved the way for a potential mixed-use development on a church-owned site off Lake Hartridge.

The site, spanning 22.3 acres, is located at 1801 Havendale Blvd. Other than the church, most of the site is currently vacant land, although there is also a 135-foot communication tower and a temporary fire station.

In a 3-1 vote on Monday, the Winter Haven City Commission voted to approve Champions Church, Inc.'s request to amend the existing Planned Unit Development (PUD) Ordinance and Commercial-Highway (C-3) zoning to a uniform PUD zoning district. Previously, 3.8 acres fronting Havendale Blvd was zoned as C-3.

The newly adopted PUD zoning district allows for a maximum of 600 multi-family units in buildings of up to 7 floors, in addition to the existing 18,000-square-foot church. Champions Church requested a total of 91,240 square feet of retail, including 40,000 square feet of restaurant/banquet space and 51,240 square feet of retail/commercial space. However, the newly adopted PUD only allows for up to 55,755 square feet of commercial, as is directed by the currently adopted Winter Haven 2035 Future Land Uses comprehensive plan.

The PUD amendment reduces the maximum density on the site from 724 residential units to 600. The apartment buildings can be 7 stories high. (Concept plan by GAV Associates)

The prior zoning designation allowed for up to 724 multi-family units and 55,757 square feet of commercial space. The church engaged Atwell Group's Orlando office to assist with the entitlements and site planning.

By amending the PUD, the city commission created a uniform zoning designation for the entirety of the property and paved the way for a potential future development, of which there is already a conceptual plan from Michigan-based architect GAV & Associates.
