Regional Overview

St. Lucie County, Florida

Extensive, dependable transportation and easy access is the key to growth, and St. Lucie County has both in abundance. Interstate Highway 95 and U.S. Highway 1 provide easy access to the country's east coast, from Key West to Maine. The Florida Turnpike stretches from just south of Miami through northern-central Florida, while State Road 70 runs from U.S. Highway 1 in Fort Pierce west to Bradenton, Florida. St. Lucie County offers a plethora of transportation linkages which include rail, a custom-serviced international airport, and a deep-water port – all of which enable easy access to all St. Lucie County has to offer. The St. Lucie County International Airport is also one of the busiest general aviation airports in the state.

The county has a population of over 328,000 and has experienced growth of over 18% since 2010. The area economy is a blend of emerging life science R&D with traditional manufacturing, agriculture, tourism and services. St. Lucie County's natural resources are enviable, with more than 21 miles of pristine coastline and beaches, coral reefs, more than 20,000 acres of public parks and nature preserves, and miles of rivers and waterways.. The area boasts over 20 public and semiprivate courses, with prices ranging from upscale to very affordable, and the great weather allows for play all year round. St. Lucie County is home to Clover Park in Port St. Lucie, the Spring training home of the New York Mets.

The county is host to Indian River State College, an institution that has won national recognition for excellence and innovation applied toward training and education. St. Lucie County boasts 39 schools with a total of 41,409 students and 5,205 staff. The Economic Development Council of St. Lucie County (EDC) is a non-profit organization with the goal of creating more, high-paying jobs for residents by working in concert on agreed upon strategies to promote the retention and expansion of existing businesses, as well as attracting new ones to St. Lucie County. Since 2017 the EDC has facilitated 40 expansion and new attraction job creating projects with a net growth of building area of approximately 6,500,000 square feet.

City Overview

Port St. Lucie, Florida

In 1961, Port St. Lucie was incorporated as a city. Today, spanning 120 square miles with a population of around 240,000 as of April 2024, Port St. Lucie is the 6th largest city in Florida, the 3rd largest in South Florida, and the most populated municipality in St. Lucie County. It ranks as the 130th largest city in the United States. The city is governed by a five-member elected council, which sets policy and determines the long-term vision for the community. This system is known as a Council-Manager form of local government. Each council member, including the Mayor, has one vote, ensuring that legislative authority is equally distributed among all five members.

As of May 2024, Jacksonville is the most populated city in Florida with 985,843 residents, followed by Miami, Tampa, Orlando, and St. Petersburg. Development within Port St. Lucie has primarily occurred west of I-95 within the Tradition development; however, significant infill development is also taking place in the General Development platted areas. Originally, Port St. Lucie was platted by the General Development Corporation as 15,000 acres of 80x120 single-family lots. This plan has largely been maintained, with utilities, public works, and roads expanding over the decades to accommodate the city's growth. As a pro-growth municipality, Port St. Lucie is generally viewed as a favorable environment for business.
