EATONVILLE TOWN CENTER DEVELOPMENT

Eatonville was incorporated in 1887 as one of the first towns in the nation to be self-governed by an all-black municipality. Rich in history and heritage, over 2,300 people reside in its 743 acres. The former Hungerford Prep School sits just to the east of I-4. The 94-acre campus is now being repositioned for developments Eatonville Town Center. Orange County Public Schools holds the property until a developer is found. The property is one of the largest vacant parcels available in Central Florida.

The town of Eatonville hopes for a one million square foot mixed-use project composed of ± 800 residential units, retail, medical and office developments, along with a new state-of-the-art elementary school.

HostDime's 7-story, 90,000 SF corporate office with 35,000 SF dedicated to their data center is the first project of the Eatonville Town Center Development. The 5 acre project is anticipated to be complete during the Summer 2021. The CEO of HostDime has pledged to do outreach programs in the town's elementary school and bring job opportunities to Eatonville.
