LAKE NONA®

“A COMMUNITY OF & FOR THE FUTURE”

Master-planned Lake Nona has quickly become one of the most sought-after submarkets in Central Florida for homeowners and businesses alike. Tavistock Development Company’s innovative community, comprised of 17 square miles of former cattle land, includes cutting-edge medical research, upscale fine dining, and Fortune 500 training and education. Within the millions of square feet of commercial real estate in Lake Nona are boutique coffee shops, Michelin-recognized fine dining, locally brewed beer, and state-of-the-art medical office facilities.

KPMG relocated their corporate training and education facility to Lake Nona in 2020, alongside Johnson & Johnson, the U.S. Department of Veterans’ Affairs, Verizon, and the United States Tennis Association, among other high-profile employers. The University of Florida, University of Central Florida, and Nemours Children’s Hospital all provide top-tier medical education and care within the confines of the Tavistock development as well.

As a hub for high-wage employment, and with its proximity to Orlando International Airport, Lake Nona is a highly sought after neighborhood for professionals and families alike. For apartment tenants, homeowners, retirees and even senior living residents, a carefully curated quality of life has been made available for residents of this wellness-focused community. Morning meditation and yoga sessions are made available to residents, easily accessible via miles of running and biking paths. Art also abounds, via ‘Art After Dark’ events and multiple public art installations highlighted by the sculpture garden at the newly opened Wave Hotel.

Simply put, Lake Nona sets the standard for quality of life in Central Florida for the 21st century and beyond.

“The master-planned community feels like it’s equal parts proof of concept and grand social experiment. Lake Nona was able to effectively start from scratch, creating a community built around the necessities and amenities of our modern culture, economy and way of living.”

THE NONA EFFECT

Sprawling outward from the confines of the Tavistock site, numerous housing, health, leisure, employment, and education options populate the greater Lake Nona region.

Students in the area are zoned for 'A' rated public elementary, middle and high schools; Valencia College also has a Lake Nona campus fronting main artery Narcoossee Rd.

Eagle Creek, North Shore and Lake Nona Country Clubs, Drive Shack, USTA's National Campus, and Nona Adventure Park offer ample opportunity for sports enthusiasts. Moss Park and Split Oak Forest give locals the chance to reconnect with nature just a few minutes' drive from the future-focused Lake Nona Town Center.

Retail staples all along bustling Narcoossee Road include casual and fast casual dining, national grocers and retailers, essential services, and medical specialists. The Narcoossee Rd. corridor offers a convenient balance to the thoughtfully curated and experiential nature of Lake Nona Town Center – designed for quick trips to meet daily needs.

The expansion of the Lake Nona lifestyle outward beyond the master planned development also affords increased quality of life to more area residents. Even in the surrounding areas where average household incomes may be slightly lower than within Tavistock's confines, developers have maintained the same commitment to quality and cater to modern customers' tastes with each new development delivered in the greater Lake Nona region.

WELCOME TO THE NATUREHOOD

Expanding upon their success with the development of the Lake Nona master planned community, Tavistock Development Company has begun a multi-decade initiative in developing their Sunbridge community. Sunbridge is a 27,000+ acre master planned development spanning Orange and Osceola Counties 20 minutes from Orlando International Airport and 6 minutes from Lake Nona.

Sunbridge will be built on 13,000 acres with a core focus on natural beauty and sustainability for the 37,000 residential units and 18 million SF of commercial space. Residents will have ample access to lakes, oak forests, waterways, and walking trails while protecting the natural environment and preserving water quality. Every home will be pre-wired for solar panels, a power wall, and electric vehicle plug-ins as well as landscaping tactics that will utilize more drought-tolerant and heat-resilient practices.

Current homebuilders linked to Sunbridge include Del Webb, Ashton Woods, Craft Homes, David Weekley Homes, Pulte Homes, and Toll Brothers, all being held to higher-than-normal standards of smart construction and sustainable design. With a range of neighborhoods, employment centers, and commercial districts built around a highly environmentally conscious ethos, Sunbridge will attract residents and companies that want to be near job drivers in both Orlando and Port Canaveral while enjoying Florida’s natural landscape for years to come.

LOCALLY & GLOBALLY CONNECTED

Anchored by Orlando International Airport (MCO), the 7th busiest airport in the U.S., the Lake Nona region is strategically positioned as a centralized transportation hub.

Drivers have direct access to 570 miles of interconnected toll roads and interstate highways just minutes from home, spanning the entirety of Central Florida and leading beyond. Not only is MCO bustling with airline traffic, Brightline's newly opened high-speed rail now offers enhanced connectivity to the Miami/Fort Lauderdale metro areas, with additional service to Tampa on the horizon. Seafarers depart by the thousands daily from Port Canaveral, the 2nd busiest port, just a 50-minute drive away.

Existing infrastructure aside, Lake Nona continues to innovate in new modes of transportation as well. German aviation company Lillium has partnered with the City of Orlando to build America's first high-speed, electric air mobility hub in Lake Nona by 2025. Featuring an all-electric, vertical take-off and landing (eVTOL) aircraft, Lake Nona will be a hub for a state-wide urban and regional air mobility network. For locals looking for a quick trip out to dinner but preferring to stay on the ground, Beep Autonomous Vehicles provides Move Nona - the largest and longest-running single-site autonomous vehicle fleet in the country.
