AERIAL MAP

West Port: What truly sets Port Charlotte apart is its unique blend of small-town charm and big-city opportunity. Residents are drawn not just by the natural beauty and recreational bounty, but also by a strong sense of community that is evident in every corner of the town. Festivals, farmers' markets, and cultural events bring people together, forging bonds and traditions that make Port Charlotte more than just a place to live — it is a place to belong. West Port is poised to dramatically reshape the local housing landscape by adding 3,500+ new residences, catering to a diverse array of residents, from retirees seeking tranquility to growing families desiring space and modern amenities. Alongside residential development, West Port promises thousands of square feet of new commercial space, making it a potential hub for shopping, dining, and services—further enriching daily life for locals.

Centennial Park: Centennial Park, built in 2003, is 103.3 acres within the Murdock Village CRA and funded by 1998 Sales Tax, 2002 Sales Tax, Parks and Rec Impact Fees and by the Florida Recreation Development Assistance Program. The park is home to the Snowbird Classic College Baseball Tournament in March and features a challenging 18-hole Disc Golf course.

West Port Marketplace: Publix-anchored shopping center, projected delivery early 2027. Located at the northeast corner of El Jobean Road and Flamingo Boulevard, with 39,000 AADT on El Jobean Road. Flamingo Boulevard will be extended north to connect to US 41 and serves the West Port community, with 3,500 new residences to be built within a mile of the shopping center.

Huntington Project: Initial construction is planned for two 5,000-sf multi-tenant quick serve restaurant tenants.
