The broader McIntosh–Micanopy corridor has experienced steady population growth, rising household incomes, and stable employment across healthcare, education, logistics, manufacturing, and agriculture supporting a reliable consumer base for commercial and automotive users. Additionally, the area stands to benefit from Camp Margaritaville Orange Lake, scheduled to open in early 2026 in nearby Citra, Florida, further enhancing regional tourism and economic activity. This offering represents a rare opportunity to acquire a fully permitted service station with flexible redevelopment potential in a growing and dynamic trade area.
