Freestanding Office Building

Orlando Central Business District

Located in the heart of Downtown Orlando's Central Business District, 437 N Magnolia Ave offers a rare opportunity to own a single-story office building directly across from the Orange County Courthouse. Spanning 5,036 square feet on a gated and fenced 0.27-acre lot, the property provides secure private parking—an uncommon amenity in the downtown core.

The building's functional layout features two spacious conference rooms, a welcoming reception and waiting area, multiple private offices, and open work areas that allow for flexible configurations. Its central location and direct proximity to the courthouse make it an ideal choice for established law firms, as well as architectural practices, surveying companies, and other professional office users seeking a high-visibility, easily accessible location.

With convenient access to public transit, nearby parking garages, and a wide range of dining and retail options within walking distance, this property offers both practicality and prestige for an owner-user looking to establish or expand their presence in one of Orlando's most in-demand business districts.

Located in the heart of Downtown Orlando's Central Business District, this freestanding office building at 437 N Magnolia Ave offers a highly visible and accessible presence in one of the city's most established business corridors.

The single-story property is positioned directly across from the Orange County Courthouse and benefits from its central CBD location, making it well suited for professional office users seeking convenience, credibility, and proximity to Orlando's legal, financial, and civic core. Surrounded by dining, retail, and public transit options, the building provides a strong opportunity for an owner-user or investor to establish a foothold in a premier downtown setting.
