

Dan Casey, CCIM
ReMax Advantage Plus
Commercial Division

Dan Casey, CCIM is a senior real estate advisor with over twenty-five years of commercial real estate brokerage, development and management experience. His extensive market knowledge and broad-based expertise enables him to identify sound investment opportunities and develop value-enhancing strategies that maximize investment returns and minimize risk.

Dan has brokered commercial property acquisitions, dispositions and provided underwriting and due diligence advisory services on property and portfolio transactions in excess of $500 million. He has represented commercial property owners and tenants in office, industrial and retail lease transactions totaling 510,000 square feet. His extensive background includes complex property acquisitions and successfully implemented distressed real estate workout and repositioning plans.

His management experience includes asset management of institutional property portfolios totaling 3.7 million square feet of Class A office. As a Development Project Manager he has overseen the design & construction of over $68 million of new construction and capital improvements projects, as well as tenant improvement projects totaling more than 350,000 square feet of class A office and retail space.

Dan earned his CCIM designation in 2010 and has been an active Florida Chapter member since moving to the state from Southern California in 2009. He has served on the East Coast District's Board of Directors since 2015 and is currently the District's 2017 President. Dan also sit on the CCIM Florida Chapter's 2017 Executive Committee as a District Representative.

