SECTION 01 - INTRODUCTION

*First Floor Restaurant: Kres ChophouseWhere Business Meets Hospitality

The third-floor office opportunity at the Kress Building offers more than a distinctive workplace. It creates the potential for a unique connection to Kres Chophouse, one of Downtown Orlando's leading fine-dining destinations, located within the building.

From client dinners and private dining to business lunches, team gatherings and special occasions, Kres provides an elevated hospitality setting just steps from the office.

As part of the third-floor tenant experience, ownership is exploring opportunities to integrate Kres through preferred reservation access, private dining opportunities, and tailored food and beverage programs.

Specific offerings will be further defined, providing the third-floor tenant with the potential for a level of hospitality, convenience and client entertainment that extends beyond the traditional office experience.

Your office upstairs. Kres Chophouse downstairs. A more connected way to work and entertain.

“

S.H. Kress & Co. used architecture as its brand and built storefronts meant to be looked at. Nine decades on, that's still what this address does, on a street the City is rebuilding around it.

SECTION 03 - LOCATION

Distinctive Character. Institutional Surroundings.

Positioned directly across Church Street from the Piedmont Building, Kress sits within the heart of Downtown Orlando's established office core. The relationship places Kress immediately alongside one of downtown's leading Class A office environments, while offering something distinctly different: the identity, architectural character and presence of a historic landmark.

From inside Piedmont's contemporary lobby, the Kress façade is directly framed across Church Street, visually reinforcing just how closely the two properties share the same business environment. For Kress tenants, the result is a distinctive boutique office experience situated squarely within Downtown Orlando's institutional center.

SECTION 03 - LOCATION

Downtown Within a 15-Minute Walk

Kress is positioned at the center of one of Downtown Orlando's most walkable environments, placing many of the city's principal business, civic, cultural, dining and entertainment destinations within approximately a 15-minute walk.

From the Kia Center and Dr. Phillips Center for the Performing Arts to City Hall, SunRail, Inter&Co Stadium and the surrounding Church Street and Orange Avenue corridors, tenants are connected to the places that define the downtown experience without getting into a car. Lake Eola, one of Downtown Orlando's signature public spaces, is also immediately accessible just beyond the 15-minute walking radius.

For employers, that connectivity extends beyond convenience. It creates a workplace environment where employees can move easily between the office, restaurants, entertainment, transit, civic destinations and public spaces throughout the day.
